1. Education is one of the sectors that has been affected much with the global challenges brought about by the covid-19 pandemic. All educational levels both in public and private institutions have shifted modalities which are deemed appropriate to the present life situations among learners and families just to afford education to all. Ultimately, the new normal education in this division is characterized by distance learning thru printed modules.
2. Despite the challenges that the schools, students, and families have experienced in the new normal, yet, SY 2020-2021 has been completed with blissfulness. All these are attributed to the synergized efforts of the entire education community.
3. Thus, this office, with thankfulness, would like to recognize the efforts that our division and district instructional managers, LRMS team, writers, editors, illustrators, quality assurance team, and videographers thru certificates.
